A PLAIN STATEMENT OF THE CASE.

Since the death of Vice President Hendricks, there has been much talk on the subject of presidential succession in case President Cleveland should die and the opinion has gone forth in all directions that in that event the president pro tem. of the senate would become president of the United States, on the alleged theory that that officer when the vice president dies, succeeds to all the rights and privileges of that office. This was generally held to be the case in 1868 when Bluff Ben Wade was president pro tem. of the senate and when President Johnson was impeached by the house of representatives. Had the senate, then sitting as a high court of impeachment, convicted him by a two-third vote, it was the prevailing impression that Wade would succeed to the presidency.

A prominent lawyer in the east, who is widely known a close student and a reliable authority on constitutional questions, has prepared an opinion on the subject which is well worth studying. In substance the opinion is this: "There is no such thing as an absolute succession to the presidency by any one but the vice president. No man can lawfully succeed to that office except one chosen according to the constitution, by electors appointed for the purpose by the several states, or by the representatives of the states in congress in case the electors fail. The vice president is elected at the same time with the president and for the same term, solely as a provision against emergency. He has no functions while the president lives and he is therefore made the presiding officer of the senate, in order to give him employment; but that is not the purpose of his election and he would still be vice president if he had nothing at all to do. In other words, while the vice president takes the chair of the senate the chairman of the senate does not become vice president.

"The distinction is important. If the president should die or be disabled, the vice president would assume his place and become president for the remainder of the term. Nobody else can do so. That is the "succession" provided by the constitution. It provides for no other, and for no other than one method of electing a president or a vice president. The latter office is in no way essential to the operations of the government, and when it becomes vacant it remains so until another election. The situation on the death of the vice president is precisely the same as when the president has died and the duties of the office have devolved on the vice president That is to say, there is no vice president during the remainder of that term

"That both the president and his constitutional alternate should die or be incapacitated during the term for which they were elected were so improbable—as a matter of fact it has never yet occurred—as not to require a second vice president. If that should happen, the only thing to do is to proceed as soon as possible to a new election. But the possibility of such an occurrence is not overlooked in the constitution. 'And the congress may, by law, provide for the case of removal, death, resignation or inability both of the president and vice president, declaring what officer shall then act as president, and such officer shall act accordingly until the disability be removed or a president shall be selected.' Congress is not empowered to fill the vacancy. It simply may designate an officer to act as president until the vacancy can be filled in the constitutional way.

It is plain that congress might designate any officer it chose for this purpose. What actually was done in the act of 1792 was to provide that in case of death or disability of both the president and vice president, the secretary of state shall forthwith cause a notification of the fact to be made to the executive of every state, specifying that electors of a president and vice president are to be appointed. There are certain conditions as to time affecting this special election, and it is provided that meanwhile "the president of the senate, or, if there is none, then the speaker of the house of representatives, for the time being, shall act as president until the disability is removed or a president is elected."

"Neither of these officers can "succeed" to the presidency in the sense in which the vice president may succeed. And the period during which the designated officer may "act as president" depends upon the date at which the vacancy may occur. The extra election is subject to the same laws and conditions that apply to the regular quadrennial election. The presidential electors meet in their several states on the first Wednesday of December and it is necessary that two months' notice shall be given to the states. Thus if a vacancy should occur at any time between this and next October we should simply go through the usual form of a presidential election next year and the president of the senate might have anywhere from five to fifteen months to act as president. In any case, however, he would be only locum tenens, and it is unlikely that even a stalwart partisan would venture to make any revolutionary changes pending an election."

GENERAL LOGAN'S DECLINATION.

One of the greatest political characters in this country is General John A. Logan. He may not possess the learning of Edmunds or the culture of Hawley, but in broad common sense, in courage of conviction, in manliness of purpose, in propriety of speech, in loyalty to the people and in faithfulness in public life, there is no member of the senate who is his superior. In political life he is, in spirit and purpose, the same character that shown so grandly in leading his corps to victory in the civil war. He never flinches from duty and never does one act in the senate chamber that is not a credit to him and an honor to those he represents. This is the manner of a man Senator John A. Logan has been ever since he became conspicuous in military and politics.

The republican senators appreciate the manly man General Logan is, and at the republican caucus on Friday unanimously tendered him the office of president of the senate. The office is one of dignity and responsibility. It is one of these offices that honors the man who is fortunate enough to hold it, and one that but few men would decline if tendered them on a "golden platter" as it was tendered to Logan. But the time has never been in General Logan's political career when he lacked wisdom or a strong mind. He appreciated the fact that he could do greater service for the country on the floor of the senate, and therefore declined the nomination. In stating his reasons why he could not accept the honor he modestly said: "If I thought I could better serve my constituents and my country by accepting this position, I would most unhesitatingly do so, and perform the duties to the best of my ability. I do not so think, and am sure that I can by work necessary to be performed in committees and otherwise, do more that may be useful by remaining in my present position. In fact, Mr. Chairman, the position is not to my taste, and unless I thought that I could perform the duties in a more satisfactory manner than other senators, which I do not, I can not see a necessity for me to occupy the chair in preference to any of my brother senators."

This may be regarded a brilliant stroke on the part of General Logan, but but the course was taken from a conscientiousness of duty. The senate will no doubt choose Mr. Edmunds, as he is better fitted for the chair than for active work on committees or on the floor of the senate.

The Madison Democrat in its enthusiasm for Postmaster General Vilas, says:

The Janesville Gazette blazes away at the postmaster general for "defying congress" and "demoralizing the foreign" mail service, using all through its charge the words of one of the metropolitan sheets. The Gazette goes to the office of the metropolitan sheet as an exchange, but it don't reach the editorial room. A clerk in the business office gets it, marks the article, and files it away with the copy of the metropolitan sheet containing the editorial from which the lamb like Gazette receives its thunder. When the metropolitan sheet settles with the steamship syndicate, it charges up for its influence the Gazette's borrowed thunder. And thus the great big metropolitan party organ waxes fat and rich, while the little country party organ waxes lank and poor. The Gazette is not getting a cent of the mammoth fund set apart by the steamship companies to crush the postmaster general.

All of which is very funny, and very much to the point, as any blind man can see. But the Gazette condoles with the Democrat in its misfortune of having been a little "too previous" in saying that the postmaster general would do such a "fool thing" as to defend, in his annual report, his action regarding the $400,000 appropriated by the last congress for the transportation of foreign mails in American steamships. It was very proper, if Colonel Vilas had a good defence, to make it, and make it in his annual report, and if the Democrat had been on the sharp watch-out for news, it would have learned, even from democratic papers, that the postmaster general had made up his mind to do what the Madison Democrat hastily called a "fool thing,"—make a defence.

There is something quite as comical as humiliating in the practices of the administration regarding civil service reform. Persons who could not pass an examination before the civil service commission, have had a "private examination," which means no examination at all, and thereby have secured good positions. Recently a man named Faulkner was given a position in the pension bureau. He was ignorance itself, and when Senator Voorhees saw Faulkner's writing some time after his appointment, he exclaimed with laughter—"ye gods, you ought to see Faulkner's spelling! but then he is as true as steel." Because he was a democrat and as true as steel, his incompetency is overlooked, and is retained in office.

It is estimated that some 650,000 copies of the first volume of General Grant's books have been sold by subscription. It is the largest sale of a first edition of a book ever known, and the royalty will yield Mrs. Grant a little over $500,000. The first edition has reached England and Germany, and France and Italy will be supplied with a portion of the second edition.

The report was current that Mr. Hendricks held a large amount of life insurance, but the fact is that he had but $1,000 But Mrs. Hendricks will have abundance as his estate is worth about $100,000. Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks had a happy way of managing their finance matters. He earned the money, placed it in her hands and she did the saving.

Carl Schurz occupied the pulpit of the Madison avenue church, New York, the other day. He didn't preach, but told what he knew of Benjamin Franklin. We imagine if "Poor Richard,' could now speak, he would not give a very exalted opinion of the gymnastic statesman from Wisconsin—Missouri—New York—Massachusetts.

---

The Philadelphia Times said on Thursday: "Logan's eye has a longing look as he thinks of the pro tem cushion." Well, how does that sound when compared with the action of Logan on Friday? It is a chilling rebuke to reckless utterances of a democratic newspaper.

---

Stuart Robson, the eminent comedian, was a page in the Thirty-first congress; that in 1850. The men who have risen to prominence and have not been pages in congress seem to be very scarce.

---

Between the gas wells of Pennsylvania and the flow of congressional gas, the country will be pretty well supplied during the next six months.

---

The country has been assured that there will be at least one good point in the president's message. It will be comparatively short.

THE BALKAN IMBROGLIO

CONTINUES TO GROW MORE AND MORE COMPLICATED.

Solution of the Problem Still In the Darksome Future—Peru and Mexico—Latest Returns from the British Election—Liberals Ahead.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The movements of Greek troops on the northern frontier seems to give color to a report widely circulated that a tripartite alliance has been formed between Austria, Servia and Greece, and the crossing of the frontier by Greek troops is to be the first open declaration of this union. The Austrian forces now mobilized in Bosnia will, according to the rumor, support the Greeks in case they should meet with any reverse. Although the people of Roumelia seem to be almost unanimous in their support of the union with Bulgaria and opposition to Turkish rule, Prince Alexander has thought it best, as a measure of precaution, to send a number of trusted military officers to Philippopolis to take any necessary step toward influencing public sentiment and checking incipient revolt.

An uneasy feeling is apparent at Philippopolis in consequence of these measures and of the critical diplomatic situation growing out of the reassertion by Turkey of her suzerain rights. The porte, however, has issued a declaration that Turkey is merely sending agents to Roumelia to protect her interests in whatever complications may arise, and that she does not as yet put in any final claim for restoration of the status quo ante.

The ambassadors of the powers at Constantinople, however, have notified their governments of a general understanding prevailing at the Turkish capital that the sultan's troops have been ordered into Roumelia, and that when they are satisfactorily placed the formal demand of Turkey will be made for the enforcement of her suzerain rights over that province as guaranteed by the Berlin treaty.

Midnight meetings were held Friday throughout Eastern Roumelia to take action on the proposed expulsion of the Turkish delegates. Great enthusiasm was shown everywhere, and without an exception votes were passed strengthening the hands of the government, calling for the expulsion of the Turkish delegates, refusing to allow the delegates to be followed by the proposed special commission and demanding the immediate recall of all such agents by the sultan. The meetings pledged themselves to provide ways and means to resist any disturbance of the unification of eastern Roumelia and Bulgaria, and refused to empower the government to hold any communication with Turkey on proposals of autonomy or any other basis than union complete and indivisible.

The unexpected weakness of the Salisbury ministry in the present election has sensibly affected the relations of Sir William White with the porte. A powerful party at the palace in Constantinople denounces the agreement for the autonomy of Roumelia as dictated by the political necessities of the Tories, and paralyzing Turkish defense against impending Russian aggression.

PERU'S PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT.

Council of Ministers Selected—The Fight in Lima.

LIMA (via Galveston), Dec. 5.—Until an election has been held, a provisional government has been established on the basis of the constitution of 1860, with the following council of ministers: Senor Arenas, president of the council and minister of foreign affairs; Senor Eusebio Sanchez, home secretary; Senor Torna, minister of justice; Senor Manuel Velard, minister of war; Senor Correa Santiago, minister of finance.

The Caceres forces will retire to Santa Clara, and the Iglesias troops to Chorrillos. The troops will leave Lima. The present prefect of Lima remains in power to maintain order.

During the recent fight Caceres lost three colonels and Iglesias six lieutenant colonels. Altogether 200 persons were killed, and a great number wounded. Some non-combatants were shot.

Great damage was done to property in the neighborhood of the palace. The Union club house was riddled, and church towers, especially the tower of the San Francisco edifice, which was exposed to the full fire of the palace, suffered greatly.

The Mexican Government Takes Hold.

MONTERREY, Mex., Dec. 5.—It was rumored in this city Thursday that important telegrams had been received from the City of Mexico, indicating that representatives of the state of Nuevo Leon and the president would arrive at an amicable solution of the present difficulties. The rumors have been confirmed by the receipt of dispatches from Governor Genaro Garcia, in the City of Mexico, stating that Gen. Trovino will arrive here Monday, bearing instructions to Acting Governor Sepulveda and Gen. Reyes, commander of the federal forces in Nuevo Leon, which will result in the re-establishment of the state government at Monterey under the protection of federal troops. This announcement caused intense excitement. The state administration people, who have for the past few days been so despondent, are holding up their heads, while consternation reigns in the camp of the revolutionists.

TWO MAJORITY OVER ALL.

Gladstone's Party Seems to Hold the Winning Cards.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—Latest election returns show the election of 285 Liberals, 225 Tories, and 58 Parnellites, a Liberal majority of 2 over all. In the south division of County Sligo, Sir Thomas Sexton (Nationalist) defeated Mr. Percival (Loyalist) by almost 10 to 1, the vote being 5,151 to 541.

The Tories are almost ready to abandon the fight, and The Standard has given up all hope of a Conservative majority. Its sole comfort is the reflection that Mr. Gladstone's strength in the house will be too limited to enable him to handle the Irish question with any degree of safety. The Tories are enraged at what they denominate the village stupidity and moral ignorance of the newly enfranchised electors, The Saint James Gazette in particular outdoing all other Tory organs in violent condemnation of the Liberal triumph.

Mr. Parnell's successes in Ireland are still accompanied the startling majorities which have already made his campaign remarkable. Not a Liberal member has yet been returned from an Irish electoral division, and the Loyalist candidates have been completely buried.

Parnell May Not Visit America.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The Post says that in view of possible political complications which may occur even before parliament meets, Mr. Parnell will probably decide to forego his contemplated visit to America.

OF PECULIAR INTEREST.

MATTERS OF MOMENT OF VARIED CHARACTER.

Edward Atkinson on the Gold Supply and Kindred Questions—Lincoln's Assassination Revived—Tilden Writes to Carlisle.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—In Bradstreet's Mr. Edward Atkinson writes at length on the subject of the alleged scarcity of gold. Mr. Atkinson takes the view that in spite of assertions to the contrary, the volume of the money metals in circulation in the world, especially the volume of gold, has increased since 1849 in a much greater ratio than has the population of the world during the same time. From an examination of the statistics available, Mr. Atkinson arrives at the conclusion that, while the population has increased about 40 per cent. in the period mentioned, the increase in the value of money metal has been fully 100 per cent. and that the value of the gold added to the circulation during that period was more than double that of the silver added. These considerations are put forward for the benefit of those who, like Senator Hill, of Colorado, assume that the question which overshadows all others in the "battle of the standards" is that of the volume of money, and who profess to fear an abridgment of the quantity of the circulating medium. Mr. Atkinson holds that the contention of the bimetallists, so called, for the necessary continued use of silver as a full legal tender metal can not be sustained by any evidence tending to prove that there is not a sufficiency of gold to serve the average need of the existing population. Mr. Atkinson takes the ground in his article that there can be no contest between monometallism and bimetallism, because bimetallism, assuming that term to mean the use of gold and silver as money metals, exists in the nature of things, and as regards by far the greatest proportion of the world's transactions can but be affected by legal statutes, the present conflict is really between the advocates of monolegal-tender and bilegal-tender, and Mr. Atkinson points out that it would conduce greatly to clearness to have that fact recognized in current discussions on the silver question.

WILKES BOOTH'S WIDOW,

So It Is Said, Writes a Letter to Settle Some Questions.

BOSTON, Dec. 5.—Several weeks ago an item appeared in The Herald relative to some person in Birmingham, Ala., who had written a book, in which he attempted to show that John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Lincoln, was still alive. It is not generally known that Booth, at the time of his death, left a widow and two children, yet such appears to be the fact. A gentleman in this city, who is well acquainted with the widow of Booth, recently addressed her a letter, inclosing The Herald paragraph, and suggesting that anything she might write in relation to it might prove interesting to the public. Subsequently the gentleman received a reply from the widow, in which she makes the following statement:

"An item in The Boston Herald has just come to my notice of some man unknown, in Birmingham, Ala., who has a desire to resurrect John Wilkes Booth, dead. I myself saw him buried, saw and examined his body before it was laid in its final resting place. He carried marks upon his body known only to his family and intimate friends, and these marks were identified by his family. We all know that the last act of his life was wrong; we also know that we should not judge. * * *

Although not generally known, J. W. Booth left a family, a wife and two children—a daughter and a son—now grown to womanhood and to manhood. This family has lived in seclusion and under a false name for twenty years. For these innocent ones' sake let their dead alone, and let them sorrow in peace. I beg for the sake of the Booth family, now mourning over the death of one of their number, that the public will show some little charity, and leave the wrongs that some one has done in the hands of a higher power, who, in his own good time, will make all things right. Let the dead rest for the sake of the living and the innocent."

In the course of her letter the alleged widow makes the sensational charge that Andrew Johnson was implicated in the Lincoln assassination.

SMALL BITS OF FLESH.

All That Is Left of the Crew of the Doc Emory.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—A number of policemen were detailed throughout Thursday night along the river front adjacent to the spot where the tug boat Doc Emory was blown to atoms, but up to 10 o'clock in the morning no trace of the remains of the five men who had perished had been discovered. It is now believed that even if any portion of the bodies of the unfortunate men exist, they have been carried through Hell Gate by the rushing tide into the waters of Long Island sound, or, perhaps, may have been washed ashore on the beach behind Astoria, which is desolate at this time of the year. Within the railing of the Twenty-eight precinct station Friday morning was piled a lot of clothing belonging to the unfortunate tug hands. On the floor beside the clothing lay a large wooden cleat in one end of which was a large spike. It is supposed that the hawser of the scow was fastened to the cleat and that it was wrenched from its fastenings when the tug went down. This was the largest piece of the wreck that the police were able to find after the steam caused by the exploding boiler had cleared away.

Later a few splinters of wood were found to which was attached small bits of human flesh, and on one piece, hung over a spike, was a large piece of skin from some man's breast, the nipple showing plainly.

The names of the unfortunate crew were as follows: Capt. Garrett Morris, 248 Twenty-ninth street, Brooklyn; Louis Capperata, engineer; Charles Davis, cook; Thomas Van Hanson, fireman; Garrett Morris, Jr., deck-hand.

Tilden Asks for Coast Defenses.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Mr. Samuel J. Tilden has written a letter to Speaker Carlisle, in which he says the property exposed to foreign attack—in case of war—at the principal sea coast cities of this country can not be less in value than $5,000,000,000, and urges the necessity of providing defenses for the sea coast. Mr. Tilden says the present is an opportune time to begin the work, and that it should be done.

Trying to Boycott the Postmaster.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Dec. 5.—The citizens of West Williamsfield, a village on the Lake Shore branch north of this city, are making an effort to boycott Postmaster Frank Johnson. Six years ago Frank Cook, a Republican, was appointed postmaster, holding the position until last August, when he was displaced by Johnson, the present incumbent. Some of the Republicans threatened to make it warm for Mr. Johnson, and recently they made arrangements by which one of their number collects all mail to be sent out, and takes it to the train twice a day, and purchases stamps at another office. As the salary of Johnson is contingent on the stamps sold and canceled, it has materially decreased his revenue. The Democrats propose to turn the tables by sending a statement of the facts to Washington, asking that the office be abolished unless the boycott is ended.

The Brittain is Safe.

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.—In response to telegrams sent out from this city Friday morning the following message was received:

"WHITEHALL, Mich., Dec. 5.—The steamer Brittain arrived safely at Holland, Mich., Thursday morning. She is slightly damaged."

Abnormal Position of a Man's Heart.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The funeral of E. J. Loveson Lytton, second cousin of Lord Lytton, who died here Thursday, will take place Sunday. An autopsy disclosed the fact that Lytton's sudden death was due to pulmonary hemorrhage, and that his heart was on his right side.

ONE RASCAL SHOWN UP.

A Development of the Wilson-Moen Suit—"Doc's" Refutation.

BOSTON, Dec. 5.—"Doc" Wilson's suit against rich Mr. Moen practically closed Friday, all the evidence being put in, and still there is no clew to the mystery in which the case is enshrouded. There is no explanation whatever of the cause of Wilson's hold upon Moen or the remarkable promise of $100,000. Counsel for the defense gave Wilson a showing up as a Lothario, telling first of his bogus marriage with Hattie Engley, of Uxbridge. The girl thought that living together as husband and wife was a legal marriage, and they continued the relation two years and more, every one supposing that a ceremony had been performed. Two children were born to them both of whom are dead. After two years Wilson said he was out of money and must marry another, Miss Farnum, who is now his wife. The marriage took place after securing his reputed wife's signature to an agreement to a separation on his promise of $50,000. This agreement he tore to shreds as soon as the signature was affixed, and transferred his hotel and other property to his prospective father-in-law.

Mulcted of Sixty Thousand.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 5.—The Sun says that August Klausmeyer, a former member of Specker Buddeke & Co., is held responsible for a $60,000 shortage in the assets of that firm. Mr. Klausmeyer is said to be in Nashville. He is wanted to explain certain entries in the books of the firm. No criminal proceedings have been instituted, but his absence has brought on a crisis which has been kept quiet for a long time. The firm, which has been doing a very heavy business, dissolved last June, Buddeke and Klausmeyer retiring and being succeeded by Specker Bros. There was trouble between the outgoing partners and the Speckers which, ended about a month ago in the latter asking for a receiver. It is said that about one year ago Klausmeyer was found to have indorsed notes of the firm of his father-in-law and other outside firms, contrary to the terms of the partnership. Since the dissolution Klausmyer is alleged to have continued to use the name of the defunct firm in endorsement. The loss to the firm so far has been about $60,000.

A Supposed Murderer Arrested.

DETROIT, Dec. 5.—On Wenesday night some miscreant cut the throat of Bertha Duckwitz, a girl of 21 years, killing her instantly. Her body was found next morning and her lover to whom she was to be married soon was missing. As he had been known to have sat with her till late in the night suspicion fastened upon him, and his mother and sister confessed that he washed blood off his hands when he came home that night and said Bertha was dead. Friday he was captured at Orion, Mich. His clothes were spotted with blood. In his pocket was a razor with blood on the inside of the handle, the rest of it having been cleaned. A ring, set in pearls, having in it the inscription "W. S. to B. D., 1884, was taken from his finger. He refuses to say anything, and at first denied his identity.

Narrow Escape from a Poisoning Horror.

MONTREAL, Dec. 5.—Eight members of the Metropolitan club, five being officials in the Bank of Montreal, together with three servants in the house, came very near losing their lives by poison Thursday evening. Ten minutes after the soup was eaten every one of the partakers commenced to vomit. A doctor was called in and emetics administered, which gave immediate relief, and the victims recovered before morning. A plate of the soup was subsequently analyzed by a chemist, who stated that there was enough arsenic in one plateful to kill twenty men, and this was the reason all were not killed, their stomachs having been turned by the overdose. The whole affair is very mysterious, and is being investigated under direction of a police magistrate.

Broom-Corn Is Up.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Dec. 5.—The scarcity and rapidly advancing price of broom-corn is causing considerable uneasiness among the manufacturers of brooms and brushes. Short crops for the past two years has made the corn scarce and it is now worth from 8 to 10 cents a pound. Chicago dealers and speculators have brought up the greater part of the western crop, which was also light, and are holding it back for a raise. It is predicted that the price will soon advance to 15 cents. This is probably the first time that the manufacturers of this neighborhood have been compelled to get their supply of corn from the west.

Teachers Who Are Too Gay.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5.—For several days the teachers' committee of the public school board have been secretly investigating charges preferred by Edward H. Long, superintendent of the public schools, against Professor H. H. Morgan, principal of the high school, and Professor William F. Sandford, principal of the branch high school. Morgan is charged with frequenting a bawdy-house, and both are charged with getting on sprees and neglecting their work in the schools. The committee has sent a request to each of the professors to send in his resignation, but as yet the request has not been complied with.

A Dying Woman's Confession.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Ray, who was shot Thursday night by her husband, who afterward killed himself, said in an ante-mortem statement Friday morning that she had been intimate with a man named Daniel Wallace and that her husband's discovery of her adultery led to the tragedy. Mrs. Ray's condition gives little hope that she will recover.

The Medal of the Empire.

[Exchange.]

The czar of Russia has bestowed upon Alvan Clark, of Cambridge, Mass. the golden honorary medal of the empire, "in acknowledgement of the excellent performance of the great object glass" made by Mr. Clark for the chief telescope in the Pulkowa observatory. The medal is given very rarely, and only for extraordinary merits. Only one other has been granted by the present emperor.

Stirrups of Solid Silver.

[Chicago Herald.]

Stirrups of solid silver, silver pommel and ornaments worth thousands of dollars may be seen often on the saddle of the gaucho, the most picturesque character in the two Americas. Some saddles of the sort weigh as much as the riders, about whose belts rows of silver dollars jingle. The gaucho always carries tobbacco, paper, flint and steel, and he rolls his cigarette at full gallop.

The Malignant Ingenuity of a Fiend

Could scarcely devise tortures more excruciating than those to which the victim of rheumatism, in the inflammatory stage, is subjected. It is also dangerous on account of the tendency toward the heart and stomach. Among the benign qualities of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is that of expelling from the circulation those acrid impurities to which the disease is attributable. Analysis proves that, in cases of rheumatism, the kidneys fail to eliminate these impurities from the blood. The bitters, by stimulating these organs to activity, enables them to perform this all important function, and, therefore, averts the disease or remedies it at the outset. The functions of digestion, and secretion of bile by the liver, are also healthfully stimulated by the bitters, which conquers dyspepsia and liver complaint, and remedies fever and ague, bilious remittent, and other ailments of malarial birth. It is also the leading tonic of the age.

Prentice & Evenson wish it known that they guarantee Acker's Dyspepsia Tablets to be the best remedy for indigestion ever made, they always relieve headache,

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—A cable message was received by Dr. O'Gorman, of Newark, Friday, in answer to the message sent on Thursday night to the French chemist, Pasteur, asking him to take charge of the six unfortunate children who were bitten Wednesday morning by a mad dog. M. Pasteur's message reads: "If you think there is danger, send children immediately." It was arranged to send them on the steamship Canada, which will sail for Havre on Wednesday. A Song of Gratitude.

In olden times, Bethesda's pool
 Was famed for healing all diseases;
Once plunged beneath its waters cool,
 Each evil, stain and sickness ceases.

In modern days we find a cure
 Of worth as rare, as much deserving;
A remedy safe, quic and sure,
 Dr. Richmond's SAMARITAN NERVINE.

For Epilepsy, Spasms, Fevers, Colics, Cramps,
 Coughs, Colds, or any kind of Phthysic;
It merit as a leader stamps
 It far above all other physics.

It goes at once right to the spot
 Where lurks the danger, never swerving;
In all the world perhaps there's not
 A cure like Dr. Richmond's NERVINE.

As in the blood diseases lie;
 Each artery, each vein, each curve in;
There's nothing makes ill humor fly,
 Like the SAMARITAN NERVINE.

For old or young, for rich or poor,
 Whatever class of life you serve in.
To health wide open is the door,
 From the SAMARITAN NERVINE.

Then do you value strength and health,
 And think these blessings worth preserving,
Better than all Golconda's wealth,
 Is Dr. Richmond's SAMARITAN NERVINE.

PREFERS OTHER DUTIES.

SENATOR LOGAN DECLINES THE CAUCUS NOMINATION.

For the Senate Presidency—A Place on the Floor All He Wants—Edmunds Likely To Be Selected—Official Reports—Gossip.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 5.—Senator Sherman called the Republican senate caucus to order Friday at 12 m. promptly, and stated the object of the meeting to be the selection of a candidate for president of the senate, death having removed the ex-officio incumbent of that chair, Hon. Thomas A. Hendricks, vice president of the United States.

The first speaker was Senator Edmunds, who said he thought last year that Senator Logan having been nominated by the Republicans for the office of vice president should be selected at once for chairman of the senate. He had been overruled at that time. He still advocated the selection of Gen. Logan, and moved his nomination.

A few other senators seconded the nomination, and the question being put resulted in a unanimous vote in favor thereof, and the chairman announced that John A. Logan had been unanimously selected by the Republicans as candidate for president of the senate pro tempore.

Gen. Logan arose and thanked the senators heartily for the honor they had done him, and also expressed his gratitude to the people of the country who had shown a desire that he should be given the high position. He, however, declared the chair of the senate a place not to his taste, and believed he could serve the country and his constituents better on the floor. He fully appreciated the honor his brother senators offered him, but desired his declination to be considered final.

Several senators deprecated Gen. Logan's declination, but could not get him to change his view, and the caucus adjourned for the day.

Senators Edmunds, Allison and Sherman in the order named are now all spoken of for the position. Friends of the former maintain that he will not accept the nomination, while others say that if selected unanimously, he will not decline. Mr. Sherman's name is mentioned as the man who is really entitled to the position, if long service is to be recognized. Gen. Logan's action it is thought by many is only the beginning of a scheme to force Mr. Edmunds to accept. There are many persons who go so far as to say that it is not improbable that the Republicans will allow the Democrats to elect one of their number to succeed the late vice president; but prominent politicians say such action would be absurd, and characterize the story as ridiculous. Senator Beck has issued a call for a caucus of Democratic senators.

Reed, of Maine, and Hiscock, of New York, are mostly spoken of for the honor of the Republican nomination for speaker of the house, while Long, of Massachusetts, and McKinley, of Ohio, show considerable strength. At half-past 7 o'clock Saturday night the Democrats will meet in the hall of the house of representatives to nominate their official ticket for the Forty-ninth congress. The old officers will most likely be nominated by acclamation and if Mr. Donelson's claim of 120 pledges for the doorkeepership holds good, he will surely win that prize.

Secretary Whitney's Report.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 5.—One of the most important reports made to congress this year is that of the secretary of the navy. He criticizes very severely the methods of administering that department during the past twenty years; says the navy yards and docks, wharves, etc., a property valued at $50,000,000, are rapidly falling into decay and require immediate attention; refers to the Roach matter at length and criticize the fact that the bids were received for the new ships before the plans were ready. With regard to the Dolphin, he says she is not a war-ship and has none of the features of one. She is a pleasure boat, without the least attempt at armor protection that would be effective before the fire of any foreign ship. Roach's embarrassment is referred to, and Mr. Whitney says the contractor was allowed to draw $200,000 of the cash reservation on his contract, at a time when he was in debt over $2,000,000 with assets that were largely unavailable.

He boldly charges that much of the naval mal-administration which has so scandalized the country in the past is due to the independent functions and general irresponsibility of the bureaus to each other and the department. This has fostered a carelessness, rather than dishonesty, which has wasted the money. The secretary is thoroughly in favor of a complete reorganization of the naval system, and particularly of the navy department itself.

The estimates for the navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887, amount to $35,104,695.15, in which sum are embraced estimates for new objects, not those ordinarily for the service, amounting to $16,069,950.24, leaving for the customary purposes of the service $19,034,744.91. They embrace for increase of the navy $10,568,770; for the completion and armament of the double-turreted monitors $4,202,556, and for public works and improvements at the yards and stations $4,308,837.41.

The Army Too Small.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 5.—Maj. Gen. Schofield, in his annual report, has the following to say about the strength of the army, referring especially to the management of the Indians, who can he says muster a force of warriors as large as the whole army of the United States:

"The question to be now considered is whether the vast increase of the interests of life and property involved does not now demand that such military measures be adopted as will surely prevent in the future any wholesale destruction of life and property by the civilized tribes of the country. I beg leave to submit that, in a country of 50,000,000 of people, 50,000 men would be a small army to be retained with sole reference to possible foreign wars; but when the country has constant daily use for nine-tenths of that force to protect its citizens and their property, to prevent destruction by savage tribes in their midst, it is extremely unwise to limit the army to its present strength."

The Hebdomadal Handshaking.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 5.—The attorney general and the secretary of war called upon the president after 10 o'clock Friday, so that the president did not make his appearance in the east room until 2 o'clock. Over 175 visitors were awaiting him there. Most of these had been patiently waiting since noon. As soon as the president's approach was announced they flocked anxiously about the center of the room to be in readiness. Secretary Endicott came down stairs with the president and took his stand behind the president, and was an interested spectator of the proceedings during the first part of the reception, but brought up the rear of the line with some personal friends, whom he introduced to the president. There were few interruptions in the steady procession, and the president had soon shaken hands with all who were present.

Captured Official Prizes.

WASHINGTON CITY, Dec. 5.—Among the appointments made Friday by the president were the following: Nathaniel Newburgh, to be appraiser of Merchandise, port of Cincinnati; Thomas J. Hamilton, of Washington Territory, to be United States marshal for territory of Washington; William J. Tinnin, to be surveyor of customs for the port of San Francisco: James E. Tucker, to be assistant appraiser of merchandise in the district of San Francisco: James W. Porch, of Missouri, to be United States consul general to Mexico. Postmasters—H. C. Evans, Bloomfield, Iowa; N. A. Wade, Butler, Mo.

BURGLARS "CRACK" A BANK SAFE,

And Get Off with Wealth to the Amount of One Thousand.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 5.—The safe of the banking house of P. Bentel & Co., of Freedom, twenty-five miles below the city was blown open by burglars at 3 o'clock Friday morning, and about $10,000 stolen or destroyed by the explosion. J. A. Bashear, a butcher, was in his shop, half a square from the bank, when he heard the report. He rushed out into the street and was fired at twice without effect by a burglar, who was on the lookout six doors from the bank. Bashear retreated down the street, and another lookout fired from the railroad, in the rear of the bank, at Bashear's dog, which was barking loudly. A moment later several citizens emerged from their houses, and saw one man, revolver in hand, in the street, another back of the bank, and five in front of the bank building. The burglars ran down the railroad track and disappeared. The citizens had no weapons, and made no attempt to molest them in their flight.

A hole had been drilled through the door of the safe near the combination lock, which must have consumed nearly three hours' time, and which shows conclusively that the thieves were expert safe-crackers. The force of the explosion lifted the safe from the floor and the front part of it crashed through, and only the door, which swung out, prevented it from going into the cellar. There was about $10,000 in the safe, more than $8,000 of which was in bank bills. The rest was in gold and silver coin. It is believed the burglars secured only about $1,000. The $8,000 was in $10 and $20 bills, which were burned or badly charred. Probably $2,000 is in such a shape that it can be redeemed. Mr. Bentel picked up $500 which was scattered about. Three or four hundred dollars of this was gold and silver. Depositors will not lose anything.

Compromising with a Scoundrel.

MANSFIELD, Ohio, Dec. 5.—It is rumored that the defaulting teller of the Farmers' bank of this city, Joseph Hosdowitch, who was reported, on Tuesday last, as having taken to Canada $4,500 of the bank's funds, has over $100,000 in money, bonds, and other special deposits belonging to that institution. A committee of stockholders who went to Windsor, Canada, to negotiate for the return of a part of the securities found that he had gone to Chatham, Ontario. It is said that Hosdowitch has agreed to return the securities, and to facilitate a settlement with the bank's officials will return to Mansfield under guarantee of immunity from prosecution. There is great excitement. Many depositors have withdrawn their balances from the bank, and the president of another banking house here, the Citizen's, has been very active in his endeavor to suppress the publication of the extent of the defalcation a general feeling of insecurity prevails.

Not Running Things Squarely.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 5.—M. J. Baker, of Lima, Ohio, and Wellington McCulloch, of Fort Wayne, Ind., president and secretary of the Mutual Protection association of Patrons of Husbandry, which formerly did business at various points in Ohio, but now has headquarters at Fort Wayne, were arrested here Friday at the instance of the state insurance commission on a charge of violating the law in not having been admitted to do business in the state, and also appropriating a portion of the funds collected on death assessments in the payment of running expenses and salaries of the association. They gave bond for appearance and trial Dec. 18.

Those Indiana Crooked Township Warrants.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Dec., 5.—A suit is about to be brought in the federal court here by Chicago parties against Township Trustee Kitz and his bondsmen for $10,000. This involves the question of the genuineness of the warrants bearing Kitz's name. The latter pronounces them forgeries. The Chicago parties obtained the warrants from Pollard, and claim to have given value for them. The theory upon which an attempt will be made to hold the bondsmen is that under the statute of 1883 a bondsman for a township trustee is liable, for all debts of the trustee not authorized by law, and for the incurring of which the consent of the county commissioners was not obtained.

Shoemakers' Strike at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 5.—The shoemakers' strike continues without any change. All the employes of the various departments are quitting as their work runs out, and fully 2,500 men, women, boys and girls will soon be idle. This is the result of the cutters' demand for an increase of wages being refused by the manufacturers. The latter state that they can not and will not pay the advance, and the cutters declare that the prices paid are not enough to enable them to support themselves and their families.

Indictment Against Gen. Shaler.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The grand jury Friday presented an indictment for bribery against Gen. Shaler. The date of his trial has not yet been set. Meanwhile his bonds will not be increased, and he will not in all likelihood be again placed under arrest. The evidence thus far adduced against him is quite strong; but his friends are hopeful that he can explain away the charge and satisfy the public of his integrity.

Hung Up and Cut Down.

BOZEMAN, Mont., Dec. 5.—Joseph Jaudo placed his 11-year-old daughter in a house of prostitution. Vigilantes took Jaudo and hanged him to a lamp-post. His cries aroused the police, who rescued him, and he is now in custody of the sheriff.

Schaeffer Beats Vignaux, Also.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 5.—In the game of billiards Friday night at the tournament here, Schaeffer and Vignaux were the players. The former won by a score of 600 to 509. The highest runs were 105 and 136 for Schaeffer, and 126 and 100 for Vignaux.

Conference of Carlists.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—A conference of the leading adherents of Don Carlos is in progress in Venice. Their deliberations are conducted with the utmost secrecy.

Prentice & Evenson distinctly state that Acker's English remedy has and does cure contracted consumption. Ask for circular. An entirely new medicine guaranteed.

Why continue the use of irritating powders, snuffs or liquids. Ely's Cream Balm, pleasant of application, and a sure cure for catarrh and cold in head, can be had for 50c. at druggists. It is easily applied with the finger, is safe and pleasant, and is curing the most obstinate cases. It gives relief at once.

Being a sufferer from chronic catarrh, and having derived great benefit from the use of Ely's Cream Balm, I can highly recommend it. Its sales are far in excess of all other catarrh remedies.—B. Franken, Druggist, Sigourney, Iowa.

The greatest foe of American people is consumption; its victims number many thousands each year. Physicians and druggists have at last found a remedy which they feel justified in recommending. This is Dr. Bigelow's Positive cure, which cures consumption in stages that other remedies are of no benefit. It cures cough, colds and throat and lung diseases speedily and safely. Price 50 cents and $1.

WHEN DOES OLD AGE BEGIN?

When does old age begin? At forty-five, it is said, the amount of combustion which keeps the furnace of the human body in blast commences to decrease and diminishes until three-score years and ten, more or less, when the fires are drawn and the flickering flame dies out. That is the physiological way of looking at it. But some men are old before they are out of their teens, while others apparently never grow old, though they live to be centenarians. The poet's way of looking at it is the best:

"Call him not old whose visionary brain
Holds o'er the past its undivided reign.
For him in vain the envious seasons roll
Who bears eternal summer in his soul."

This at least seems to be the way in which David Littell, of Sumner, Ia., looks at life, for though now in his eightieth year he has taken a new lease on life and is apparently determined to hold on to it. Athlophoros did it for him and he acknowledges his debt to it in terms of enthusiasm. Mr. Littell tells his own story:

"I was past seventy-seven and had been afflicted with rheumatism three years and eight months. I had lost one-third of my weight and could not walk, but shuffled along with crutches. Sleep had deserted me, my nerves were all shattered, and there was no strength in my hands, wrists, knees or feet. I could not sit down or get up out of a chair without help, and oh I such pain, worse at night than in the day. There was neither sleep nor rest, and the outlook was painful in the extreme.

"But thanks be to God and Brother Inskip for sending me a paper containing a notice of the cures made by Athlophoros and thanks be to you for sending me a bottle. It appears to me the hand of God is in it all the way, and if you did not hear me shout why then I did not shout loud enough, that is all. The medicine arrived one Saturday night after I had gone to bed. In the morning my son prepared me a dose of two teaspoonfuls in milk. I took it and felt it at once all over. After that I took but one teaspoonful at a time until I had finished the bottle. How did it act? Why, like a charm. On Monday morning I rose, dressed, and walked out into the kitchen without crutches or cane and wished them all a happy New Year.

"My pain is all gone and I rest well. My son, seeing such a great change in me, wrote for ten bottles in order, as he says, to make a permanent cure of it. It is all more like a dream than reality. I have written to four of my friends who are afflicted with rheumatism about the great medicine and I shall write to others, and in this way try to pay the debt of gratitude.

"Some fourteen months ago," says A. Hayward, of Burlington, Ia., "I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism. I tried a dozen different kinds of medicine said to cure rheumatism, but to no purpose. Finally, I procured a bottle of Athlophoros. After using the bottle it did me so much good that I bought another, but did not have to use more than a third of the second bottle before I was entirely cured. From that time up to the present I have never had anything like rheumatic pains, and I thank Athlophoros for the cure."

Thomas McCue, Bush's block, Dubuque, Ia., whose wife was cured by Athlophoros of a terrible case of rheumatism, declares it was "truly a miracle in my wife's case."

If you cannot get ATHLOPHOROS of your druggist, we will send it express paid, on receipt of regular price—one dollar per bottle. We prefer that you buy it from your druggist, but if he hasn't it, do not be persuaded to try something else, but order at once from us, as directed. ATHLOPHOROS CO. 112 Wall Street, New York.

When combined with the healing mucilaginous principle in the mullein plant of the old fields, presents in TAYLOR'S CHEROKEE REMEDY OF SWEET GUM AND MULLEIN the finest known remedy for Coughs, Croup, Whooping-cough and Consumption; and so palatable, any child is pleased to take it. ## Farmers' Mills!

The Mills have been fitted up in good order for all kinds of Custom Grinding.

The proprietors keep on hand and will deliver

Buckwheat Flour
Graham Flour,
Rye Flour
Corn Meal, Bolted and Granulated.
Corn, Oats,
Ground Feed,
Baled Hay,
Bran and Linseed Meal,

Of the Best Quality.

We desire to build up a home trade in

Buckwheat Flour,

And we guarantee that all Buckwheat Flour sold from these mills shall be made from Pure Buckwheat, and shall contain no other ingredient.

Our Graham Flour

Is made from thoroughly cleaned, Choice, White Winter Wheat. Graham Flour takes its name from Sylvester Graham, the author of a noted treatise on "Bread and Bread Making." It is conceded that bread made from unbolted or Graham Flour, is more healthful and nutritious than fine, white bolted flour, for the reason that it contains more of the gluten, from which the flesh, bone, brain and tissue of the body is built up and sustained.

The whitest and most beautiful bread found upon the tables of the critical American, contains less of the elements of

STRENGTH, HEALTH AND BEAUTY

Than the dark colored rye bread in Germany, or the heavy loaves found in the knap-sacks of the Russian soldier. Graham bread made from good, clean wheat is very excellent and healthful food. We propose to make and sell this kind of flour.

Corn Meal.

Is a staple article of diet in the Eastern and Southern States, and should be more generally used here. Is there a Yankee on the face of the earth, who has wandered so far from the hills of New England, that he has forgotten the baked pork and beans, the rye and the Indian meal bread, or the baked Indian pudding with which his heart and stomach were gladdened during the days of his boyhood. Hoe cake, Johnny cake, mush and milk, corn meal gems, and Indian meal puddings, with pork and bacon, were main articles of diet for the sturdy men and women who subdued and built up the older States of the Union. We offer to the trade, and families, both the bolted and granulated Corn Meal.

Especial attention is called to our

Minnesota Linseed Meal

It is excellent for dairy stock, and horses, when fed with other grain.

ORDERS FOR GOODS may be left at the store of E. Hall, Norcross Block, or at the mill. All grists ground on the same day as received, as desired.

Briefletts.

—Wintry weather.

—Attend church to-morrow.

—No services at the Court Street M E. church this evening.

—Remember the 29-cent dance at the Rifles' armory to-night.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Foote entertained their friends last evening at a progressive euchre party.

—The Evening Star Club will give another 29 cent dance at the Rifles armory on Saturday evening, December 5th.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lowell entertained a few friends, with old-time hospitality, at their pleasant home in the first ward, last evening.

—Dancing from eight to twelve o'clock at the Rifles armory on Saturday evening, December 5th. Tickets 29 cents. Good music.

—Yesterday the white horse owned by Hon. I. C. Sloan, while indulging in a little runaway on Court street, fell and broke one of his legs. The horse was killed. Loss nominal.

—A new paint shop is being erected by the St. Julien Cross Spring Company, in connection with their manufactory. This will be quite an improvement, and will add to the capacity of the works.

—The annual meeting of the Rock County Agricultural society is being held at the county clerk's office this afternoon. There is a large attendance and important business is to be transacted.

—Janesville Business College gives no vacation during the holidays this year, except on Christmas and New Years days. The college is doing a good work and young people by scores are preparing, now while young, for that which they will practice in after life.

—The storm outside made the progressive euchre party, given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Glass, last night, seem all the more agreeable. About forty friends gathered at their home on South Main street, and enjoyed the popular game until a late hour of the night.

—John Concannon, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Concannon, of this city, met with a serious accident on the Chicago & Northwestern road yesterday. It is not known what injuries he sustained. His parents went to Chicago as soon as they received the sad news and no word has been received from them by any of their friends here.

—The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad will run an accomodation train daily except Sunday between Janesville and Beloit, leaving Janesville at 12:10 p. m., making direct connections at Beloit for Chicago, Elgin, Council Bluffs, Rockford, Freeport, Rock Island, Racine and points east of Beloit. This train is additional to the 9:45 a. m. and 6 p. m trains to above points.

—The responses made by our city school teachers in answering to the roll call at the teachers' meeting this morning, are published in another column. The "matter of current history," as given by the thirty eight teachers, covers a very wide range, no doubt illustrating the channel of thought and study of our educators. The items, many of them, will be found interesting to the general reader.

—Mr. P. S. Smith, an old soldier now residing at Highland, Wis., is in the city selling tickets to a book raffle which will occur at his home February 22d. Mr. Smith had the misfortune about three years ago to fall down a shaft in one of the Wisconsin mines breaking several bones and injuring his spine. He is unable to support his family by manual labor and so is trying to make a living by raffling off a part of his library. The books are all valuable ones and Mr. Smith should receive generous treatment at the hands of our people.

—In response to the query of yesterday morning's Chronicle, as to when winter commences in this country, we would say that December 4th seems to be the chosen time this year. The storm last night was a severe one, and this morning sleds and snow shovels took the place of rocking horses and toy wagons in front of the furniture stores. After a man had been out in the wind for an hour, he was willing to swear that no colder weather had ever been experienced. Horses broke their hitching straps and started for home; belated pedestrians did their best to enjoy the flurries of snow which drifted into overcoat collars, and altogether the night might be set down as very stormy.

THE LIBEL CASE.

Is Dropped By Consent of Both Parties.

Yesterday afternoon about half past three a half hour recess was taken in the Hiles libel case and the attorneys retired for consultation. At the conclusion of this it was agreed that the case of Hiles against Edwards should be dropped, each party paying his own costs, and that all the other cases connected with this affair should also be dropped, the plaintiff paying all costs. Hiles will have about $800 to pay in the five continued cases and in the one which has been before the court, there will be costs of nearly $2,000 to divide between the two parties.

This morning Judge Bennett has been arranging the calendar for next week, it is as follows:

Cole against McKey.
Peninsular Stove Co. against Snashall.
Kelly against Fishblatt.
Malcairns against the city of Janesville.
Greenault against Helmboldt.
Warrior Mower Co. against VanEltz, garn.

On motion of the defendant the case of the state against Robert Lilburn was dismissed, the defendant paying his fine and settling all costs in both courts.

THE TEACHERS' MEETING.

Two Hours With the City School Teachers.

At Their Regular Meeting at the Central Building.

Responses to the Roll-Call—Instructive and Interesting Exercises.

The regular meeting of city school teachers was held at the Central building this morning at nine o'clock, there being a full attendance. The roll was called by Miss Minnie Pulker, the teachers, responding, by "giving some matter of current history. Prof. Keyes' name heading the list, he responded by stating that the board of education had determined upon a four weeks vacation following the present term; and then briefly gave an outline of the programme for the meeting of the State Teachers' Association at Madison, and urged all the city teachers to attend. In response to a question, eleven ladies signified a desire to attend. The calling of the roll was then continued, the teachers responding by giving items as follows:

Edwin Arnold has gone to India to study the buns of a new eastern poem.

A town in Russia has been named New York in honor of the American metropolis.

An iron pier 3,166 feet in length is being built at Boston. It will be the longest in the world.

An earthquake wave Tuesday morning caused the tide to rise 3 feet above mean high water at Fall River, Massachusetts.

A new emancipation act has been introduced in the Brazilian Parliament favoring an early liberation of the slaves.

Reports from the cholera-stricken districts of southern Europe, show that Spain has suffered most. The back roll showing over 70,000 deaths.

The richest banker in Japan is worth $1,500,000,000. Jay Gould, Wm. H. Vanderbilt and others take comfort in the fact that poverty is no disgrace.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Furness, of Philadelphia, have recently made several endowments to colleges for girls to secure the study of Shakespeare through prizes for essays.

Severe shocks of earthquake were felt in various portions of Spain, Sunday. A London dispatch states that the bed of the Mediterranean sea has risen perceptibly.

Advices from Pekin state that the Chinese government desires Great Britain to annex Burmah and promises to co-operate with England in opening the country to foreign trade.

Business failures to the number of two hundred occurred in the United States during the current week. An increase is shown in the south and on the Pacific cost.

Great earthquake waves were noticed on the Pacific coast last week They were thirty-five minutes apart and as heavy as those observed during the great upheaval in Java some years ago.

Miss Helen M. Ludlow, for many years one of the leading teachers at General Armstrong's Hampton school, has gone to Dakota to escort twenty-eight Indian boy and girl graduates to their old homes.

The queen regent of Spain presided on Thursday, December 3d, over a council for the first time. She expressed a wish that a general amnesty should be extended to all pessons suffering in any manner for crimes of a political nature.

The queen was the first person in England to receive an official notification of King Alfonso's death. Besides sending a message of condolance to Madrid she dispatched a special messenger to the Spanish embassy at London within half an hour of the receipt of the news.

The great university of Senator Stanford's, in California, has an endowment of $20,000 000, while that of Harvard University does not reach $5,000,000. Senator Stanford does not intend that any similar institution either in Europe or America shall excel his,

On the night of November 3rd, the Andre monument on the top of Treason Hill, Tappan, N. Y., erected by Cyrus W. Field, was blown up by dynamite. The base of the shaft was shattered to pieces, but the shaft itself was but slightly injured. The shock was severe.

Margaret Sidney Mrs. Lothrop) has an excellent article in "The Christian Union," recommending that a "city week" be given to hard-worked ministers' and farmers' wives during the winter, to offset the "country week" they give to city children in the summer.

The new English parliament will consist of 670 members, of which Parnell is likely to have a following of from 85 to 90 members. Though both parties may unite to defeat him on an Irish question, they will not on an English question, leaving him practically master of the situation.

About twenty Indian children from the Oneida reservation, in Outagamie and Brown counties, were taken the first of the month to the U. S. Indian school at Carlisle, Pa: The children go for a term of five years and the government pays all expenses. Over 150 have been sent from the Oneida reservation this fall.

EXTINCTION OF NATIVE RACES.—Attention has lately been called to two races of men that must soon become extinct. At the present rate of decrease the Maoris of New Zealand—now reduced to less than 45,000 from 100,000 in Captain Cook's day—must have disappeared by the year 2,000. The Laplanders are estimated not to exceed 30,000 in number, and are gradually becoming fewer.

The United States senatorial caucus was held in Washington yesterday noon The seat of president pro tem. of the senate was offered to General Logan, but he declined the honor. This is looked upon with considerable surprise by Mr. Logan's friends, but is on the whole the best thing he could have done to further his chances for the nomination of the presidency in 1888.

The most interesting celebration of October was that of the two hundredth anniversary of the revelation of the ediot of Nantes, on the 22d, by the descendants of the Huguenots. A notable event in connection with this anniversary has been the appearance of a scholarly and interesting history of the Huguenot emigration to America by Prof. Charles W. Baird, of the University of New York.

Boston, Dec. 3.—A cable message, received yesterday at Harvard College Observatory, from Dr. Kreuger, "of Kiel, announced the discovery of a comet at Paris, The new comet was observed last night at Harvard College Observatory by Mr. Wendell. Its position is as follows Dec. 2; Declension, 7 hours 8 minutes 11 second—Cambridge mean time; right ascension, 37 minutes 26.5 second; declination north 21 degrees 30 seconds.

The death of Alfonso, king of Spain, on Wednesday last, closed the career of the youngest sovereign in Europe. Only 28 years old, and beginning his reign in 1874 under most unpropitious conditions, he succeeded in reconciling factions and commanded the royal support of his subjects. Insignificant in person and poorly equipped, physically, for the position he was called to fill, his success is mainly to be attributed to his popular qualities and his good judgment in political crises.

HALIFAX, N. B., Dec. 5.—The Imperial authorities are paying considerable attention to the work of strengthening Halifax as a military post, and the torpedo service will be enlarged by the addition of four first class torpedo boats of one thousand horse power each. The military force will be strengthened by the addition of another regiment, the first battalion of Berkshire, which did such valuable service during the late campaign in Egypt.

The result of the English elections seem to give the balance of power to Mr. Parnell, unless, indeed, as is not unlikely, the Whigs, who may be called the Left Center of the House of Commons, should unite with the Tories against the common foe. A well-trained band of eighty, all acting in obedience to a wily leader, could soon render parliamentary government impossible. Home rule for Ireland is now a probability of the near future. The question is: Will Ireland be satisfied with that?

On November 24th, Fulton county, Georgia, in which the city of Atlanta is situated, held an election at which the prohibition party carried the county by a majority of 219 votes. Intense excitement prevailed for several days prior to the election, and the work at the polls was a hand-to-hand contest, which resulted as above in a total vote of over 9,000. The prohibitionists held a jubilee over the result and proclaim their intention of making this the leading question in the politics of the state of Georgia.

Arbitrated out of possession of the Carolines, Germany is evidently bound to have a coaling station in the Pacific between the Sandwich Islands and Australia. She has accordingly taken possession of the Marshall Islands. This is a large group of coral formation lying over a thousand miles east of Yap, which is at the western extremity of the Carolines. On the maps they are indicated as belonging to no nation, but as they have been visited by official navigators from almost all the countries of the civilized world there is no telling in what quarter (except in France) some claimant may not spring up to contest Germany's right of possession.

The irrepressible Charles Bradlaugh emerges once more triumphant from the parliamentary elections. The manner in which his faithful constituents of Northampton adhere to him is a fine illustration of English pertinacity. For years they have been unrepresented in parliament. They regularly elect Mr. Bradlaugh, and as regularly parliament refuses to permit him to take his seat on the ground that he is an unbeliever and cannot properly take the oath of office. other unbelievers are allowed to take their seats, but Mr. Bradlaugh is regarded as a mischievous person and a brawler. In former times he spoke against monarchy and advocated a republican form of government. When the new parliament meets Mr. Bradlaugh will be ready for another scene; he will be again excluded, and Northampton will again reelect him at the first opportunity.

The American elements have no respect for even so venerable a thing as the Egyptian obelisk. They are veritably eating it up. To prevent this irreverant destruction, workmen have been sent to Central Park to encase the monolith in a coating which it is believed, will prevent further depredation. Every loose flake of the stone is being removed. After this the surface of the stone will be heated in sections, and the protector, a compound of parafine and creosote, will be applied. This compound penetrates the pores of the stone, and hardens. It resists the action of acids, alkalies, gases, and all extremes of temperature, and produces no other effect on the appearance of the stone than to make it slightly darker. If the success expected is attained, there will be a big field open in America for this new process of preserving stone.

The poor king of Spain has gone to rest after a reign of ten years. Little happiness had he known here, an exile at a tender age, he was a cadet in an English military school, when, by one of those sudden reactions which are incident to revolutionary tactics, he was called to the throne, from which his mother had been not undeservedly driven. He was then but eighteen years of age. Honest in intention and liberal minded by conviction, he strove the best he knew to promote the peace and welfare of his people, but he was thwarted at home by factions, and insulted abroad by fanaticism and greed of conquest. He married early a cousin whom he dearly loved and within six months was left a widower. To the great disgust of the nation, which has always clung in its heart to the Salic law, he is succeeded by his eldest daughter in whose name, as she is only five years old, the late king's widow, an Austrian princess, will administer the government.

Supt. Keyes gave the teachers some very important instruction regarding corporal punishment, and to what extent corporal punishment should extend; also in relation to heating and ventilating the school house, etc.

Miss Martha Willey was called to the blackboard and gave an interesting class exercise in teaching music.

The report of the committee on the relations existing between our present local school arrangements and the growing evil of near sightedness, not being prepared to make a full report, were given further time.

"Presentation of 'Page's Discussions of School Government,'" followed, occupying an hour's time, and the questions and answers arising therefrom were of great interest, and much valuable information gained. The meeting adjourned for two weeks.

"A better article it is impossible to get sir; I have tried them all and unhesitatingly pronounce Dr. Bull's Cough syrup superior to any." (Exc.)

The city treasurer's report was read, showing the proceeds from municipal court penalties during the past month to be $33. The balance in the treasury at December 1st was $10,172.04. On motion of Commissioner Wilson the report was adopted and placed on file.

The subject of the sanitary condition of the school buildings was brought up. Clerk Wilson stated that no investigation had as yet been made but that the health officer was present and would make a few remarks.

Dr. Robinson then spoke for a short time, stating that in his opinion there was no real need for a full investigation but that if any individual cases were brought up he would gladly look to them.

Commissioner Miner moved that the clerk be authorized to have the vaults of the city school privies cleaned out. Adopted.

Superintendent Keyes read his monthly report showing that all contagious diseases were disappearing from our schools. Steps are being taken to reduce the number of written examinations. All of the new text books authorized are now in use. He recommended the adoption of Holder's zoology and Loomis' music reader as text books in the two studies.

The report was placed on file.

Commissioner Bowles moved that Loomis' music readers be adopted for the use of teachers in our schools. Carried.

Commissioner Wilson moved that Holder's Zoology be adopted as a text book in the high schools. Adopted.

On motion of Commissioner Bowles the coming vacation was fixed at four weeks, the next term to consist of eleven weeks and to open January 18th. This will not change the length of the school year, which will consist of about thirty-seven weeks.
